27th Sunday Ordinary Time Year A
 4 October 2020

The prophets of the Old Testament were sent to prepare the people for the coming of Christ. When Jesus came, he was not accepted by the rulers and elders, but many of the people did believe in him. The Kingdom of God has been given to us too. We must nurture our faith so that it will grow and produce abundant fruit for the people of our time.

Background on the Gospel Reading

Today's Gospel follows directly after last Sunday's Gospel in which Jesus was questioned by Jewish religious leaders about the source of his teaching authority. After refusing to answer their questions, Jesus tells the parable of the two sons and then criticizes the priests and elders for their lack of belief in John the Baptist.

In today's Gospel, Jesus once again speaks to the priests and elders with a parable. In this parable, the landowner leases his vineyard to tenants and sends his servants to collect the portion of the harvest that the tenants owe to him. Several times the servants are sent to collect payment, and each time they are beaten and killed by the tenants. Finally, the landowner sends his son to collect his rent. The tenants, believing that they will inherit the vineyard if the landowner dies without an heir, plot together and kill the landowner's son.

After telling the parable, Jesus questions the chief priests and elders about what the landowner will do to the wicked tenants. They all agree that the landowner will kill the wicked tenants and give the land to new tenants who will pay the rent.

In telling the parable, Jesus is clearly drawing upon Isaiah 5:1-7, which is today's first reading and one that the priests and elders would have known well. Jesus doesn't, therefore, have to explain the symbolism of the parable; the Pharisees would have understood that the vineyard represented Israel, the landowner represented God, the servants represented the prophets, and the bad tenants represented the religious leaders. Yet Jesus nonetheless explains the meaning of the parable for his audience: the Kingdom of God will be taken from the unbelieving and given to the faithful. The chief priests and elders have condemned themselves with their answer to Jesus' question.

Today's Gospel has a parallel in Mark 12:1-12. There are some notable differences, however. In Matthew's version, the religious leaders condemn themselves; in Mark's Gospel, Jesus answers his own question. Matthew names the religious leaders as Pharisees and chief priests. Clearly this Gospel shows the tension that was mounting between Jesus and the Jewish religious leaders who thought that his message was dangerous. Matthew's Gospel was written about 70 years after Jesus' death and reflects the conflicts and tensions found in the Christian community for whom Matthew was writing. Many biblical scholars believe that the tension between Matthew's community and their Jewish neighbors can also be heard in today's reading.

This Gospel reminds us of the importance of listening to God's word. God speaks to us in many ways—through Scripture, through our Church tradition, in our Church's teaching, and through modern-day prophets. Are we attentive and receptive to God's word to us through these messengers?

“The St Vincent de Paul Society is advocating together with others for more social housing. On 17 November the NSW Government will deliver the State Budget. With more than 100,000 people waiting for social housing and many more families struggling to make ends meet, the Society, together with others is hoping to have the matter addressed. There is a petition at the back of the church . The Society hopes to have this tabled in NSW Parliament before the Budget. We need 10,000 signatures for this to happen. and already have more than 7,000. Thank you”

New Parish Mass Booking System

We are still getting a number of parishioners that have not booked which creates gathering and waiting around the sign in table so we ask once again that you book in via phone or email by Wednesday of each week. This is only necessary if your name does not appear on the new lists that have been created and will be used from this weekend. It will now be a first in basis as once we reach 100 we will not be able to go over. The list has been created from our current data base and booking sheets so please only call the office or email if your name is not there.

Also under the current government health advice it is recommended that all parishioners wear a mask during Mass. It is not compulsory but advisable.

Thank you for understanding. Fr Dan, Kaylene and Jennie

We have managed to teach scripture in our public schools whilst maintaining our social distancing and being well looked after by the schools' staff and students.

We are missing a few volunteers and we are hoping someone within our parish would be able to join our team as a scripture teacher for 2021. CCD offer the necessary training and ongoing support. We need to get organised for next year so we can get back to the kids who are yearning to hear and know of God's love.

Please do call me if you think you may be interested and wish to know more before making the commitment. Thank you, Bertha 0438408430 berthafadsni@gmail.com
